

Deborah Haile, RN

Senior National Training Consultant, ECC Global Training

Deborah has worked with the American Heart Association (AHA) for more than 20 years, as an AHA Basic Life Support (BLS) Instructor and for the last 8 years as staff. She has held a variety of positions and has held the position of Sr National Training Consultant for 3 years in Dallas at the AHA National Center.

Professionally, Deborah began a career in Emergency Medical Services as an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT). During which time she attended school to become a Licensed Practical Nurse, then a Registered Nurse. As an RN she has worked in many interesting fields: Emergency Room, Home Health, Hospice, Occupational Health and Wellness, and even Camp Nurse for children with medical challenges. She has also taught for a community college, courses for Nursing and EMT.

www.laerdal.com/sun

2010 San Diego SUN
Speaker Bio